RICHMOND SITE IS HELD FAVORED FOR HUGE CARQUINEZ STRAITS DAM

TRAIN CRASH RESULTS IN $90,000 SUIT

PT. SAN PABLO-MARIN COUNTY DAM RUMORED

Project Considered For Years On File With State Engineer

It was reported yesterday that the long awaited report of Walker R. Young, United States engineer, on the feasibility of constructing a Carquinez Straits dam, converting Suisun Bay into a fresh water lake, which has been placed on file with Edward Hyatt, Jr., acting state engineer, favors Richmond as the site for the project. It was rumored that the proposed dam site was scheduled for the vicinity of Point San Pablo to the Marin county shore. No further facts could be learned, for the report is at present held "confidential," it was said.

OLD PROJECT

Young, with a crew of government engineers, was engaged for a year in surveys to determine the feasibility of construction of a dam. Funds for the survey were provided by the government, the state and private interests.

One of the chief factors arousing the survey was the encroachment of salt water into the lower reaches of the San Joaquin and Sacramento rivers and the consequent diminishing of water supplies for agricultural development.

MANY POINTS SURVEYED

Young is known to have devoted considerable attention to surveys of a dam site from Bullhead Point to Army Point, on the line of the proposed Southern Pacific bridge. One plan the government engineers was construction of a solid dam at this site without locks and provision of a ship canal through the properties of the Mountain Copper Company.

Other sites investigated by the engineers are near Port Costa and the investigations were even carried to sites as far west as Richmond.

Filing of a confidential report puzzled persons interested in the project. The Contra Costa Water Users Association, composed of industrial concerns, has been watching the progress of the survey closely and has been awaiting the report with great interest.

AT HOTEL CARQUINEZ

Guests registered at the Hotel Carquinez yesterday were: E. A. Jacobson and J. E. Amenda, both of Reno, Nevada.

WISE BUYING OF FEED AND FUEL

Buying right is as important to the business man as selling at a profit. In fact he cannot sell at a profit if he does not buy to advantage.

Buying right is equally important to the family. The time to buy feed, for instance, is when prices are lowest. The time to buy fuel, because others usually wait until it is cold before they order their fuel and when there is little or no market for a commodity the price declines. The place to buy feed and fuel is listed in the Buyers Guide on the classified page.

Probe Into Home Life Is Cause Of Squabble In Minor Registration

The registration of all minors in Richmond between the ages of 3 and 18 years of age will be furnished here sometime next week. W. T. Helms, superintendent of city schools announced yesterday. The registrations is state-wide in scope, ordered by the 1927 legislature. It is under the direction of William John Cooper, state director of education.

EXCEPTION TAKEN

During the peaceful progress of Governor Young's executive council council yesterday a bomb shell was exploded by John A. McGilvray, director and industrial relations.

He questioned the advisability of mixing a survey of the literacy of parents and their marital status in with the minors' registration. Although the "bombshell" was a "dud" as far as political significance or its having any outward effect upon the periphery of the session were concerned, McGilvray's query nevertheless bore fruit for ere the end of the discussion Governor Young and the other eight members of the executive cabinet were won over to his belief and a study of the family life of the state was left to the discretion of local authorities.

PROTESTS QUESTIONS

Raising his protest upon his own experiences, he having been asked to fill out one of the cards approved by Cooper, McGilvray took exception to being asked to make public the last year of school he completed, whether or not he and his wife were separated and if so whether or not either had remarried. These were a few of the questions Cooper had approved for the minors' registration. The industrial relations official claims these inquiries had no connection with a survey of the minors of the state and he added that he was not alone in his objections for his neighbors had held countless open discussions from the front doorsteps and across the back fences in in these were not backward in expressing their views upon their having been called upon to answer them.

WINS SUPPORT

McGilvray's contentions were immediately echoed by Alexander R. Heron, director of finance, Governor Young and several of the other council members and although Cooper defended the queries and explained the reasons why the information was desired the opposition proved too strong and he soon was won over.

As a result word has gone out to the county superintendents to the effect that when the survey starts they are to insist that only those questions relating to the children must be answered, it being left to the discretion of the school people to determine whether they desire to press the request for the added information and to the parents to determine if they wish to answer.

HELMS IN FAVOR

"The questions relating to home conditions are really irrelevant," Superintendent of Schools Helms declared yesterday. "The registration itself, taking into account physical handicaps, reasons for absence from school, and the number of years in attendance at school, is of benefit in allowing of a comprehensive study of literacy and economic conditions."

Rate Hearing Of Key System Up November 2

Resumption of the Railroad Commission hearing, concerning permanent rates for the Key System lines, will be opened before Commissioner Clyde Seavey at the Oakland city hall, November 2, according to notice sent to the officials from the railroad commission yesterday.

The arguments have been held from time to time, and at the last hearing the Key System broached a plan for a "pass" system whereby a person might buy a one-week pass, and then ride as often as he pleases, while others pay a 10-cent street car fare. This matter is still under consideration.

Union High Student Body Holds Dance

The student body of alumni of the Richmond Union high school held a dance in the gym of the school last night. The ceiling was hung with streamers of the school colors and music was furnished by Charles Cecil's orchestra.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer G. Stidham accompanied by Miss Winifred Erickson, will leave this morning for Fort Bragg. They expect to return by next Monday night.

MOTORIST SUES FOR ACCIDENT IN RICHMOND

Responsibility Placed On Carrier For Hurts Suffered in Crash

Ernest I. Bittner, 1016 Drake avenue, Burlingame, yesterday filed suit for $90,000 against the Southern Pacific railroad in the Superior court in San Francisco, charging the carrier with responsibility for personal injuries he is alleged to have suffered when his automobile was struck by a train in Richmond, October 3, last. Bittner sustained a broken leg, fractured hip and internal injuries, the suit recites.

CAR WRECKED

Accompanied by Chester Rose, of Niles, and Joe Stevens of 1215 Thirty-first street, San Francisco, Bittner was traveling on Chesapeake in North Richmond, when he was struck by the train traveling east. The car was thrown 20 feet and was completely wrecked.

MARTINEZ, Sept. 30.—Settlement for $1,000 of a suit seeking $10,400 for the death of Charles Fox, electrocuted near Alvarado park, Richmond, on February 22, was effected today, when the Western States Gas and Electric Company and five brothers and sisters of Fox, plaintiffs in the action, subscribed to a judgment in Superior Judge A. B. McKenzie's department. Fox was electrocuted when he came in contact with a high voltage wire that had fallen from its supports. The plaintiffs in the suit were Constable J. J. Fox, William J. Fox, Anna Abale, Mary Sala and Mrs. W. N. Pearce.

Increase For Precincts In C. C. Forecast

Rapid growth of Contra Costa municipalities and rural districts will necessitate the creation of at least a dozen more voting precincts before the next general election, County Clerk J. H. Wells estimated yesterday as he began the task of re-arranging of voting places.

Re-arranging of boundaries of Richmond precincts has been accomplished without the addition of precincts.

130 PRECINCTS SEEN

Martinez, Concord, Walnut Creek, Kensington, El Cerrito, Lafayette, Pittsburg and San Pablo have been listed by the county clerk as localities in which he recommended the creation of new precincts. With 115 precincts for the last general election it is expected growth of the county will demand at least 130 precincts for the next election.

11 IN MARTINEZ

Annexation of the Martinez Park Tract to Martinez and resultant placing of an estimated additional seventy voters in Martinez and development of the Muir Manor tract is expected to require addition of two precincts to Martinez making the city's voting places total 11 addition of Martinez Park tract to the city will cut voting strength of Alhambra precinct in which the district was formally incorporated.

Wells is seeking to establish precincts with approximate voting strengths of 200 person and in pursuing this plan will find it necessary to divide several communities into two or more precincts.

Concord precincts will probably be increased from four to six, Walnut Creek from three to four, Kensington from one to two, El Cerrito from five to seven, Lafayette from 1 to 2, and San Pablo from two to three. Pittsburg may have two precincts added.

One precinct, Concord No. 4, has in excess of 400 voters and several approach the 400 registration. Under Wells plans these districts will be divided.

Development of La Salle Heights tract will add voters to the Mountain View district but the clerk does not anticipate division of that precinct will be necessary.

Changes Made In Directorate Of Key System

Another step toward less active participation in the affairs of the Key System Transit company by the Drumm interests was seen in changes effected yesterday in its board of directors, including the resignation of John S. Drumm, San Francisco banker.

In addition to Drumm, Lester S. Ready, former president and now engineer for the state railroad commission, resigned and in their places Robert W. Miller and F. H. Crosby were elected directors.

Miller who takes Drumm's place is the son of C. O. G. Miller, former president of the company and now chairman of the board of directors. Crosby, who also was elected a vice-president of the company, is a representative of the Barth group now exercising a majority influence in the company's policies. He is well known in the public utility field, having been connected with a number of independent telephone companies. He will give a considerable part of time to the affairs of the Key System, assisting President A. J. Lundberg.

Pressure of his banking business was given by Drumm as the reason for his resignation.

Mrs. Leslie A. Black is entertaining her brother, Charles J. Long of Pottsville, Pa., who motored here in nine days. Long, who is an automobile dealer, reports that the roads across the continent are in good condition.

Mrs. M. Lewis, of 1416 Nevins avenue, is in the Stanford University hospital, San Francisco, where she underwent the second operation for the removal of a cataract from her eye yesterday. She expects to return to her home within a few days.

Modern Music Makes Us A Healthier Nation

GUS ARNHEIM

Gus Arnheim Finds Effects of Dance Tuneful Beneficial to Youth of Today

Los Angeles—Is dancing and our modern dance music making a healthy nation of us? Gus Arnheim, famous orchestra director, thinks they are.

"With the growth of large cities, and the exchange on the part of millions of an urban for a rural life, dancing and golfing has completely taken the place of having and hoeing," contends Arnheim.

That this is a change for the better Arnheim believes, is shown in the more equal muscular development of young men and women of today. To the past generation, exercise was work, today we make our pleasures, exercise. Modern household improvements have freed women from long hours of dreary work and given them the time and energy to find exhilarating exercise in dancing and outdoor sports.

Fall Fashions Filch Color From The Autumnal Tints

By MME. HALL-DEANE
"I am sure you will remember me," writes Mrs. T. D. R. "I am the small-town dressmaker who writes to you every season for style suggestions. Somehow I have learned to depend on you—so here I am again."

"Tell me something about the fall fashions, please—the colors, the materials. In short, everything you have space to tell. I shall watch for your answer with interest. Thanks for your help."

I wish I had space to tell you the whole story of the fall and winter mode, for never before have fabrics been more lovely, styles so delightfully simple and details so original.

Fashion has chosen some lovely materials with which to express herself this season. Old-time fabrics have been resurrected in the search for something new, rejuvenated and glorified until they bear but scant resemblance to their former selves. And the new fabrics are delightfully varied and original.

Despite the simplicity of line there is no lack of variety in the fashions of the new season. At the same time the new styles will delight the heart of the home dressmaker—so easy are they to develop.

Colors for daytime wear are rich and dark. There are many grays and many grayish-browns and beiges. Blue is also a prime favorite, as is green. Other smart colors are the browns and the grape shades.

For evening the popular colors are all-white, blue, gold and silver also the pastel tints. The new woolen fabrics for daytime are characterized by extreme

A Meeting at the Old Trysting Place!

WILLIS BEACH, neighbor and friend of the fair widow of the slain Dr. William Lillendahl, often met Mrs. Lillendahl at an "old trysting place" near a hollow oak tree, a mile from the Lillendahl home, at Hammon, N. J., according to police probing mysterious killing. And here, it is alleged, they left missives for each other. Beach and the widow, held in high ball as material witnesses, while admitting connection with the "Peggy Anderson" letters in possession of police, deny using the old trysting place, at which they're shown in compositograph above, as a post office.

O. HENRY TALE HOLDS BOARDS AT CALIFORNIA

In "Wolf's Clothing" the Warner Bros. picture starring Monte Blue, the California theatre has one of the most diverting pictures of the season. Founded upon Arthur Somers Roche's story, it tells a tale that recalls the spirit of O. Henry. For here New York is once more transformed into Backlot-on-the-Subway, and once more adventure comes to commonplace people and turns them into types of true romance.

Like a character in the Arabian Nights, Barry Baline, a subway guard, is transported into scenes of great pomp and circumstance, and whirled through a night of mad excitement. The night is New Year's Eve and the place is New York. A gang of crooks are out to get $50,000 in loot and Barry Baline finds himself out to get the crooks.

Monte Blue is Barry and Barry is a role that suits Mr. Blue in every particular. A big husky, laughing roughneck, he plays with a snorting zest that sweeps realms of convincing probability.

Playing opposite him is Patsy Ruth Miller, as a society girl who wants to see life without a chapter. She is out to capture her freedom. She captures, instead, the affections of the subway guard.

Other outstanding performances are given by John Miljan, Douglas Gerrard, Lee Moran and Kari Pasha.

The picture was directed by Roy Del Ruth, with a fine sense of comedy and a sure sense of thrills.

Other features on the same program include "Winning Five" featuring George Lewis with all the old college gang: "Snapshots," "International News" and Larry Canelo at the organ.

Watsonville—Work on Redfish Canyon road rapidly nearing completion on Santa Clara County side of mountain.

Salinas—5364 acres of land in southern Monterey County and Northern San Luis Obispo County under oil lease.

RICHMOND HAS MILE A MINUTE RACE ROMANCE

Crammed with swiftly moving action, interspersed with a delightful vein of light comedy, and possessing two mile-a-minute horse races unsurpassed on the screen for realism, speed and thrills, the First National picture, "The Sunset Derby," which opened last night at the Richmond Theatre, is screen entertainment plus.

Mary Astor and William Collier, Jr., as the young lovers, make a delightful team in the featured roles, and both contribute performances which merit the highest praise.

Ralph Lewis and Lionel Belmore as the lively stable owner and the service station proprietor, contribute the comedy with their good-natured business feud, and, in addition, add a few scenes which are highly dramatic. David Kirby, Burt Ross, Henry Barrows, Michael Visaroff and others are in the supporting cast.

A striking feature of "The Sunset Derby" is the fact that it is highly thrilling and possesses many dramatic moments without once touching melodrama with the familiar movie "villain."

The deft handling of the story, and particularly the workmanlike direction of the racing scenes, merits Albert Rogall, the director, a great deal of praise.

Other film features include

Wolf's Role

PATSY RUTH MILLER who has the leading feminine role opposite Monte Blue in "WOLF'S CLOTHING," now being screened at the California Theatre.

"Jane's Party," a roaring comedy; and Felix in Locomotive, a cartoon comedy.

Coming next Monday and Tuesday, the official motion pictures of the famous Tunney-Dempsey Fight held at Chicago. See the famous seventh round, see the referee count over Tunney and judge for yourself whether the referee was right or wrong; see the thousands of excited, fight fans and get the thrills of the greatest fight in the history of the padded arena.

(Continued From Page 1.) music outlined her plans for the year, stating that her slogan was for a "singing state." Mrs. Merrill hopes to make music on the programs of the clubs an educational feature instead of a fill-in, and to "make good music popular, and popular music good." The music chairman will especially stress choral contest between the club, and announced that her "pet project" for the year is a music scholarship.

Mrs. Graham, as chairman of American citizenship, in her report stated that the division would be known this year as a "fact finding agency," and it is her aim to establish a clipping bureau of facts.

Conference Will Act On Pastor Appointment

Editor of the Record-Herald, Richmond, California.

My Dear Sir: Through a misunderstanding on the part of one of your reporters there has gone out to the public a wrong impression with regards to my having returned to Richmond for my fifth year as pastor of the Community Methodist church. The Quarterly Conference which was held last Wednesday evening has authority only to recommend my return which it did. The appointments for the coming conference year will be made by the Pacific Annual Conference which meets at San Jose, October 5, and the matter of my leaving Richmond for some other field or returning to this local congregation will be decided by this body which has final authority.

This slight error has brought to us a large number of congratulatory expressions from our many friends, which are appreciated, and whether we return to Richmond or go to some other city there shall ever be in our hearts a "warm place" for the city of Richmond and our many friends who have contributed so largely to the happiness we have known in our work here for the past four years. Let me here express also my heart-felt appreciation to you and your staff for the splendid service you have rendered throughout my four years here in the matter of publicity and church advertisements. You have had no small part in any success we have had.

Cordially yours,
MILTON H. GREENLEE
Pastor

GRID GAMES IN CALIF. STADIUM ON FOR TODAY

BERKELEY, Sept. 30.—The preliminary to the California-Nevada game today in the Memorial Stadium will be played by the Bear freshmen and the strong Los Angeles All-Stars, a team coached by H. S. Piper and composed of former L. A. High school stars.

The southern team is playing a schedule which includes besides the Bear Babe game contest with the freshmen teams of the University of Southern California and the University of California at Los Angeles. The California freshman had originally scheduled a game for Saturday with the Mare Island Marines.

Brick Mitchell, the California freshman coach, has announced that Russ Avery, star end and former Olympic Club player, will be in the starting line-up. Avery was hampered last Saturday by a weak ankle and played but a few minutes. Hickingbotham will start at fullback for Garrity who is also on the injured list.

Figures compiled by the University of California ticket office show that the attendance at the Bears' contest with Santa Clara last Saturday broke all records for attendance at opening games on the Berkeley campus.

Slightly more than 33,000 persons saw the California victory.

LOCAL ELKS WIN OVER BERKELEY IN GOLF MATCH

The Richmond lodge of Elks won the challenge golf tourney from the Berkeley lodge at the Berkeley country club yesterday afternoon. But they won by the closest kind of a margin.

Both teams tied and the tie was played off by the excited rulers of both lodges in a putting match. "Doc" Hinkley's putter out-putted Exalted Ruler T. A. Linscott of the Berkeley lodge, saving the honors for the Richmond lodge. But as there was no winner, both sides paid for the dinner served in the clubhouse.

Harry Hays held low groans and Russ Meyers low net for the Richmond aggregation.

The Richmond lineup included: A. A. Alstrom, F. W. Gordon, R. T. Osburn, E. M. Downer, S. B. Murry, T. H. Delap, W. L. Ballenger, G. L. Miner, Jr., C. W. Cole, W. E. Lewis, M. W. Joost, C. V. Mero, H. H. Mylander, M. A. Hays, A. P. Hill, F. A. Mero, A. B. Hinkley, P. M. Neville, I. R. Vaughn, P. L. Harlow, J. E. Durand, T. A. Duggan, R. Meyers, F. M. Phelps.

O. Aggies Play C. Aggies Today

OREGON AGRICULTURE COLLEGE, Corvallis, Sept. 30.—The second week of football practice is getting under way at the Oregon Agriculture college with four full teams going through secret practice twice daily. Orle Robbins, two-year letterman at end, reported to Paul J. Schissler, head coach, the first of the week. The arrival of Robbins solves one of the end problems. The failure of John Logan, another two-year letterman at end, to return leaves the other wing berth still a problem.

Comparatively speaking the Orange gridders are much farther along from the point of condition and of training than they were at the same time last season. They are going through formations with a mobility and smoothness that presages an excellent working machine by the time they meet the California Aggies in Corvallis, today.

Duck Season Opens This Morning

The duck season for 1927 opens this morning! Devotees of duck hunting are reported ready to emigrate in large carloads for the nearest grounds and on every street corner the small talk runs to "gauge" "tules" "double barrelled," etc.

How Safe are Safes?

A quarter of a century ago iron safes in the home or office were believed to afford a fair measure of protection for personal possessions. Today, however, such safes are easily looted. Science has surrounded the bank safe deposit vault with devices and protective systems that set at naught the best efforts of the most highly-skilled cracksmen. The American Trust Company vaults are of the highest type of fire and burglar-proof construction. Within these impregnable vaults may be rented safe deposit boxes of convenient and varying sizes at a cost of $3.00 a year and upward. Special storage vaults also are provided for the accommodation of bulky articles of value.

A blue gas flame keeps your cooking utensils clean

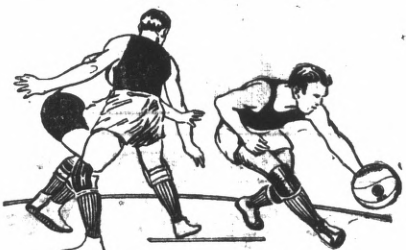

A PERFECTLY working Gas Range is a delight to use. But at times, food boiling over or dust drawn in through the air mixers will carbonize and unless the burners are cleaned these particles will close the holes or ports of the burners. The result is a yellow flame or a "popping" noise when you turn off the gas. This is improper combustion.

The burners of your Gas Range are easily removed and should be cleaned each month to insure perfect combustion and cleanliness. Merely boil the burners in a solution of lye water or caustic soda until they are thoroughly clean.

You'll find it easy to keep your Gas Range as clean as any other piece of furniture in the house. The range will operate perfectly. It will last longer. You'll enjoy its speed, cleanliness and the ease of cooking with Gas—just as thousands of other women are doing today.

Quickly Relieved
Berkeley, Calif., Aug. 21, 1927.
To Whom It May Concern:
For the benefit of other people and as a recommendation for Fong Wan, I frankly say that the Fong Wan Herbs have relieved my right arm which was paralyzed. For about two months I could not move that arm at all. Although I tried medical doctors and a chiropractic, my condition remained the same.

Acting upon the advice of a friend I tried the Fong Wan Chinese Herbs. After the first four days, I could raise my arm, and at the end of two weeks, my recovery was complete. The Fong Wan Herbs are nice, clean and fragrant. They are wonderfully compounded and put up in neat packages. I took them at home. For such marvelous and speedy relief, I am glad to give this testimonial.

Lucullus Capital Here Best Dinner Tales Pour In Rabbit Saves Doc's Life

"It's a long, long story," began Dr. J. W. Bumgarner as he reached far back into memory and strove to recall the tastiest repast it had been his privilege to enjoy. Suddenly his eyes lighted.

ON HUNTING TRIP

"I had tramped for two days through an impenetrable forest, trees spaced so close together that I had to hew my way through with a pocket knife. The tops of the trees made it almost completely dark beneath.

"There was not a sound as I walked along with a pack on my back in which there was only a box of matches—no food. And I was hungry, terribly so.

"Not even the eerie cry of a bird pierced the silence." Here Dr. Bumgarner smiled placidly. "That was a good sentence," he remarked. "Well, to go on with my story..."

MASTER OF FATE
"In my hand was a trusty .30-30, but in my heart was an indomitable conviction that I would not die in the primeval forest." He pounded his chest at this, dramatically emphasizing that he was captain of his fate and master of his soul. As he pounded his chest, however, he coughed slightly, and that he considered the effect lost was evident. He sighed.

"Well, I had a hunch after walking another 15 miles that some wild game was sure to turn up. I debated as I walked along as to whether I should cook it or eat it raw—that is if my weakened hands could hold the rifle firm.

HEARS RUSTLING
"Then I heard a rustling in the hay field along the path..."

"Hayfield in a forest?" he was asked.

"Oh, that's right, we were in the forest, weren't we," Dr. Bumgarner proceeded undisturbed. "I heard a rustling in the dense forest grass near by, and out bounded a rabbit."

"That rabbit looked three feet high. He stood on his haunches looking at me, chewing on a piece of grass. I raised my rifle and fired... that is, I tried to fire.

but since there was no cartridge in the chamber, the rabbit stood there, apparently wondering what happened next.

HAS BUCK FEVER
"I jammed in a shell, raised my packed arms and pulled the trigger, only to disturb an ant hill. The rabbit sensed that I meant business and started to bound away. I fired again, and scored on a fir tree. Again a pellet of lead leaped out of the muzzle of the gun missing him by a good three yards.

"That animal decided that it was a game, apparently, for he stopped and looked back at me with a wide grin. I threw down the gun and picking up a rock, threw it. It struck the rabbit between the eyes and killed it.

FEASTS ON "LAPIN"
Dr. Bumgarner leaned back in his chair and closed his eyes. "That rabbit saved my life. He tasted better to be than the most sumptuous banquet I ever ate."

"My teeth have never been the same since trying to eat him," he murmured. "He was a tough customer—I doubt whether a bullet could have phased him."

DEATH LIST STANDS AT 87 IN TORNADO SWEEP ST. LOUIS

(City Universal Service)
St. Louis, Sept. 30.—Staggering from the force of a cyclone that swept over six square miles of the city, St. Louis tonight was counting its dead, caring for the injured and providing homes for the destitute.

The death list stood at 87 early tonight. Of the dead 79 were killed in St. Louis and eight in East St. Louis and nearby suburbs. Stories of the horror of the catastrophe were being recounted by survivors who groped their way through miles of debris that filled the city's thoroughfares. There are families that have not been reunited. But Red Cross workers tonight reported that temporary homes have been provided for the destitute, that 400 patients are in hospitals receiving every attention, and that 700 persons who suffered minor injuries have been given medical attention.

E. E. Christopher, building commissioner, said the loss would be under $10,000,000, and might reach $100,000,000. Approximately 5,000 buildings were wrecked and damaged.

Rehabilitation is now the great problem for St. Louis. Major Victor Miller has issued an appeal for contributions to be expended by the Red Cross.

The bodies of three little girls were dug from the ruins of the Central high school early today. They were caught after 1,600 of their companions had made their way to safety. That great loss of life did not fall here was regarded by Red Cross workers as a miracle. The children had just returned from the noon recess for classes when the storm approached. They were ordered out because the building was under reconstruction. Most of them made their way to a nearby theatre which withstood the storm. The school building was badly wrecked.

Street car service was resumed through most of the devastated area today. Fallen trees were chopped away or pulled to one side to permit the passage of vehicles and street cars. Crews of workmen spent the night restoring torn and twisted trolley poles and wires.

Electric light wires were restored in much of the storm zone today and light will be available tonight. Last night hundreds of relief workers grouped through the ruins searching for the dead and injured aided only by the flash of lanterns and gasoline torches. The rapidity with which the work of destruction was accomplished was terrifying to spectators. They could hardly realize what was taking place before them. And people living downtown were unaware of the holocaust for many hours. They heard a storm had struck the residential section and scores made their way in that direction. An hour after the storm the sun was shining brightly. These sightseers went laughing into the storm zone, only to be overcome by the awfulness of the tragedy and join other rescuers in working feverishly throughout the night.
